EFT Network Adds Credit Card Processing To Its Portfolio Of Payments Solutions

Hawthorne, New York, July 9, 2009 – EFT Network, Inc., a leading provider of Automated Clearing House (ACH) and check processing solutions, today announced the addition of credit and debit card transaction processing to its web-based payment processing system. Using one comprehensive system, EFT Network’s clientele now have the opportunity to process single or recurring credit and debit card transactions, ACH and check processing.

“EFT Network’s system is a valuable tool for businesses of all types,” said Steve Davis, president of EFT Network. “We have enhanced our ACH and check processing services to include credit and debit card transactions. The expansion of our services provides our clients with an alternate way to accept payments and allows them to combine the services they need for a complete payment processing experience-- all through our web-based system.”

EFT Network’s comprehensive Payment Gateway is a feature-rich modular system that includes ACH processing, Credit Card processing, Remote Deposit, and Check 21 solutions. Our services are all web-based with innovative features and options. Our system provides seamless integration with a variety of accounts receivable systems to help automate payment processing. Customers of EFT Network have the ability to capitalize on the revenue opportunities. They have the option to resell our services at a mark-up and earn residual income with our customer referral and revenue sharing programs.
